Preamble to inspectors' report

Information and guidance about the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (ZLA) is available at <https://www.gov.uk/government/policies/protecting-biodiversity-and-ecosystems-at-home-and-abroad/supporting-pages/species-protection> and <http://wales.gov.uk/topics/environmentcountryside/ahw/zoos/?lang=en>

Preamble to inspectors' report*, including any comments about the current dispensation status, if applicable.

Zoos in the UK are covered by the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (as amended by the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (Amendment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002). The Guide to the Act's Provisions are covered by 2012 Version. This inspection was made in accordance with the requirements of this legislation.

Since the last inspection there have been substantial changes within the Zoo – namely

1. The re-defined limits of the Zoo area that had been agreed with the LA
2. The permanent removal of the Falconry Centre and therefore most of the Non-Domesticated species.
3. That the only Non-Domesticated Animals currently held (and intended to be held in the future) are 7 (seven) Reindeer (Rangifer spp) of which 5 (five) are female and 2 (two) are males (one is a juvenile due to be neutered later in the year). The adult male Reindeer is "Category 1 Greater Risk" under the Hazardous Animal Categorisation.

Extensive discussion was undertaken over the current Position, especially as there are only 7 (seven) Non-Domesticated animals kept. We also discussed the 9 (nine) Alpacas, but I have now obtained confirmation that they have been changed from section 3 ("Not Normally Domesticated") to section 2 ("Normally Domesticated") and therefore do not need to be further considered.

The Establishment is not a welfare concern but is clearly struggling to effectively meet the ongoing requirements of the Mandatory Licensing Standards of Conservation and Research. A Route that should be seriously considered is the neutering or permanent removing (other than for 6 days per year) of the Male Reindeer to allow an application by the LA to DEFRA/ APHA for consideration of a 14(1) Dispensation as the most effective way of dealing with this Collection.

As a Licenced Zoo with a 14(2) Dispensation, the Establishment must comply with the standards required of a Zoo, as laid out in The Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (2012 Edition).

Dispensations:-

It is considered that the current Dispensation of 14 (2) is appropriate.

However, if there were no intact Male Reindeers, then the Inspector would advise the LA to apply to DEFRA/ APHA for a 14(1) exemption as a more appropriate Dispensation.

This report is based upon the findings and information supplied in association with the formal inspection that took place on 29th September 2016.

*this might include general background about the zoo (type of collection, size etc) and any relevant information or comments from the pre-inspection audit

- additional notes and comments on the answers to the earlier questions
- recommendations (other than in respect of grant or refusal of a licence and any specific conditions recommended for a licence) including those based on comments already made to earlier questions
- any general remarks which the inspecting team may wish to record

We would like to thank the Zoo Management and Staff for their hospitality on this inspection.

Zoos in the UK are granted a licence under the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (Amendment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002 to comply with the EC Zoos Directive 1999/22/EC. In pursuance of section 9 of the Zoo Licensing Act 1981, The Secretary of State has specified the Standards of Modern Zoo Practice.

Although a small area has now been re-designated as the Zoo, this still needs a Perimeter Fence (eg bushes of a height to prevent climbing over with an entrance door or doors that can be locked outside opening hours) and monitoring (eg intruder alarm or ideally CCTV) of the area, especially in view of the Public Right of way through the Farm Park. The Secretary of State's Standards (8.29) specifically requires this to discourage unauthorised entry and is in addition to the Enclosure Fences for an exhibit. This Condition remains, even though there are only 7 (Seven) non-domesticated animals now kept - as One of which (the male) is a "Category 1 Greater Risk" under the Hazardous Animal Categorisation and continued failure to provide an effective Perimeter Fence and Monitoring is not acceptable.

The (Current) Licence and conditions can remain on display at the entrance of the Farm Park but It must not imply or suggest that the whole of the Farm Park is a Licenced Zoo and either this must be stated or (ideally) moved to the entrance into the defined Zoo area once the Perimeter Fence and Doors are provided.

Preamble to inspectors' report

Information and guidance about the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (ZLA) is available at <https://www.gov.uk/government/policies/protecting-biodiversity-and-ecosystems-at-home-and-abroad/supporting-pages/species-protection> and <http://wales.gov.uk/topics/environmentcountryside/ahw/zoos/?lang=en>

Preamble to inspectors' report*, including any comments about the current dispensation status, if applicable.

Zoos in the UK are covered by the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (as amended by the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (Amendment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002). This inspection was made in accordance with the requirements of this legislation.

In assessing the standards required of a Zoo, reference is made to The Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (2012 Edition).

The Inspectors role is to identify problems (i.e. where minimum standards are not being met), not to provide solutions. However, where problems are identified, discussions will be open and inclusive of all parties on how best to deal with them. In general, Inspectors will support and encourage zoos to make necessary improvements and should know where to direct the zoo for information if they cannot provide this advice themselves.

Inspectors can only inspect and report on the information gathered on the day of the inspection. Records and record-keeping systems will be sampled and interrogated. The annual stock records will be checked to assess animal movements, mortality etc. The stock record should be in six or seven columns, as long as required information is provided. Unexpectedly high mortalities will warrant further investigation.

Compliance with the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (as amended) does not imply that the requirements of any other legislation have been met. The licence holder should ensure that he/she is aware of the requirements under CITES regulating the commercial use of specimens listed on Annex A of the CITES regulations. For further information and advice the zoo licence holder should contact the Wildlife and Licensing Registration Service of Animal Health on 0117 372 8774

This report is based upon the findings and information supplied in association with the formal inspection that took place on 26th September 2013.

Dispensations:-

Responsibility for granting dispensations lies with the Secretary of State. Inspectors may be asked to comment on whether a new zoo might be suitable for a dispensation, or whether an existing dispensation remains appropriate, but it is not the responsibility of the Inspector to carry out a detailed analysis or to decide on dispensation status. In England, such considerations and any decisions on dispensations are made by AHVLA on behalf of the Secretary of State.

It is considered that the current Dispensation is correct.

*this might include general background about the zoo (type of collection, size etc) and any relevant information or comments from the pre-inspection audit

- any general remarks which the inspecting team may wish to record

We would like to thank the Zoo Management and Staff for their hospitality on this inspection.

We were impressed by many aspects of this Zoo, especially As it is new and coming to the completion of the first 4 years of being licenced. The displays were natural but informative and the use of signs educational and appropriate. I considered this Zoo, although small, to be of a very high standard.

Zoos in the UK are granted a licence under the Zoo Licensing Act 1981 (Amendment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002 to comply with the EC Zoos Directive 1999/22/EC. In pursuance of section 9 of the Zoo Licensing Act 1981, The Secretary of State has specified the Standards of Modern Zoo Practice . It is clear that this Zoo is mindful and compliant of these Standards.

The following are recommendations. These are not currently to be conditions but are made in order to maintain and improve standards. :-

1. There is a need to agree the zoo boundaries with the Local Authority and to file a definitive map so that the Licenced Site Perimeters are known and there is no confusion. ✓
2. The permitted feeding by the visitors needs to be monitored and recorded to prevent uncontrolled feeding of animals. This is a requirement under the Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (1.10). ✓
3. Tethering of owls was said to have been agreed with the previous Inspector. However, under the Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (Appendix 8; 8.7.4), Owls should not be tethered but trained to fly from pens and this is the preferred way to house them. Before the next inspection, the practice of Tethering Owls should be ended and they be trained as required by the Standards. ✓
4. The Electric fence in the Pig Paddock (River Field) needs the appropriate signs. This is a requirement under the Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (8.9 and 8.44). ✓
5. All entrances to confined areas should have the appropriate signs (eg "No Smoking" Signs). ✓
6. A full assessment of the Electrical plugs and source for the Top Carousel needs to be undertaken. ✓
7. There is a need to consider the placement of Fire Detectors in the Petting Barn and the Conservation Station. ✓
8. If any animals are sold to the general public then a licence may be required from the Local Authority under the Pet Animals Act 1951. This is advice given in the Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (Appendix 4, section 4.6). ✓
